

THE TOWN OF HUMPOLEC AND THE CZECH ANTHROPOLOGICAL SOCIETY ANNOUNCE
THE 2019 DR. HRDLIČKA PRIZE COMPETITION

The competition is announced in the category 'Doctoral theses with an anthropological theme'

The theses can be registered at the latest 3 years after their defence (it means the theses defended between 2015 - 2019) by the authors themselves or by the workplace where they originated.

The theses must be sent in Czech or English in one copy and in an electronic form in PDF format. A written application form must be attached.

The application must comprise:

- The first name and surname of the author
- The date of birth
- The exact permanent residence address
- The e-mail address of the author (the main means of communication with the organizers)
- The name and the address of university where the theses originated
- The name of supervisor or main consultant
- The Certificate about the theses defence including the date

The deadline for the applications is March 1st, 2019

The theses with the application forms will be forwarded to the President of the Czech Anthropological Society, they can also be delivered personally.

The address for sending the applications:

Doc. RNDr. Eva Drozdová, Ph.D.

Department of Experimental Biology, Faculty of Science Masaryk University

Kotlářská 2

611 37 Brno

External examination of the theses will be completed by the end of June 2019. The final assessment will be carried out by the committee comprised of experts from the Czech Anthropological Society and representatives of Humpolec. The winners will be presented with a degree and a financial award. The festive announcement of the competition results and presentation of the awards will take place in Humpolec as a part of the programme of the 6th International Anthropological Congress of Dr. Aleš Hrdlička (3rd - 5th September 2019). (www.iacah.eu)

Further information is available on websites of ČSA www.anthropology.cz, in section Latest news, from the President Eva Drozdová -drozdova@sci.muni.cz or on Internet website of the Congress - www.iacah.eu.

Dr. Aleš Hrdlička's prize is determined by the regulation No. 51/2/ZM/2018 set by the authorities of the town of Humpolec.

The competition is designated for the graduates of Czech Universities
The manuscripts sent in the competition will be not returned back to the authors